

The UNI Times

UNI's Tyler Molder runs 800 in competition

The University of Northern Iowa's Tyler Molder ran Sunday in a competition. Leading the race until the very end Tyler came home with a third place victory for UNI.

Molder A4

Crude Oil Is Getting Cheaper - so why are Gas Prices up?

out. No matter how many membe attend ed from your chapter only the president o designated person took the stage to receive the awar

Gas Prices up?

akjsdhfklajsdhfkasjdfhklakajsdhfkjasdhfkjashdtkfalkjdsdhflakjsdhflkjalkjalal:kdjfl:akdjflakdsjflkdsaaajalksdj;flkadsj;flkajs;d;lkfj

Gas F4

Volume 1 $2.99 US

Sunday February 15, 2009

www.unitimes.com

Chris Brown Apologizes

Chris Brown finally says Sorry for what happened

By: Brittany Westercamp

At the conclusion of the spring 2008 semester I was voted President of Public Relations Student Society of America (PRSSA). As I took this position I was automatically given authority over all divisions of the organization. With my authority I was to coordinate not only my actions but to also supervise others' actions. Although there were leaders to all sub divisions of the organization, it was still my job to make sure all those parts ran like a well oiled machine. To help with my overseeing position I was given references from the past president, could ask questions of the faculty advisor, and had information including brochures and websites to assist me in keeping up to date and making decisions.

With numerous different departments within PRSSA I stay very busy making sure I am attending all meetings, staying up to date on deadlines, and making sure updating minutes are getting out to all other members. Just this semester PRSSA planned an hosted a Chili Cook Off fundraiser, Cooking for a Cure fundraiser, went trick or treating for Unisef as a community service project, and attend a National Conference in Detroit. Along with all these events to take care of there is the bi-weekly general meeting for all members which I conduct and the meeting for the executive board on the off weeks.

As mentioned before our No matter how many members attended from your chapter only this semester PRSSA planned an hosted a Chili Cook Off fundraiser, Cooking for a Cure fundraiser, went trick or treating for Unisef as a community service project, and attend a National Conference in Detroit. Along with all these er PRSSA planned an hosted a community service project, anattend a National Conference in Detroit. Along with all these

Brown B2

lgkhgflkhfdg;lkh'df;glhkfdg;lkh';dfgldflkgh'd;flkgh

FRIDAY THE '13' SLASHES NUMBERS

By Brittany Westercamp

president is unofficially the spokesperson for the organization. In October, thirteen of our members attended a conference in Detroit, Michigan. While we were here there was an awards ceremony in which all the major awards for PRSSA are given out. No matter how many members attended from your chapter only the president or designated person took the stage to receive the award.

On the flip side to all the prestige of being the president, most of the blame when things go wrong is also put on me. When deadlines are not met or registrations are not mailed in on time it becomes my fault. So along with all the fun, comes the burden of the most responsibility. I love holding my position and taking control because I feel I am responsible enough to uphold and maintain all the duties and responsibilities that my members look to me for.

My position as PRSSA president is an example of Authority Relationship. As president I am accountable and responsible for not only my actions but others' as well. Also, although I have a great chapter of adfkdjklfjdlk-fjdkfjdmembers behind me doing a lot of the elbow grease I do get to be the spokesperson / face for the University of Northern Iowa's PRSSA

kjdfllk;a;sdjfl;kasjdfi;kajsdfl;kjads; Friday C4

KENSETH WINS DAYTONA 500

Rain causes an early end to the Daytona 500

By: Brittany Westercamp

At the conclusion of the spring 2008 semester I was voted President of Public Relations Student Society of America (PRSSA). As I took this position I was automatically given authority over all divisions of the organization. With my authority I was to coordinate not only my actions but to also supervise others' actions. Although there were leaders to all sub divisions of the organization, it was still my job to make sure all those parts ran like a well oiled machine. To help with my overseeing position I was given references from the past president, could ask questions of the faculty advisor, and had information including brochures and websites to assist me in keeping up to date and making decisions.

With numerous different departments within PRSSA I stay very busy making sure I am attending all meetings, staying up to date on deadlines, and making sure updating minutes are getting out to all other members. Just this semester PRSSA planned an hosted a Chili Cook Off fundraiser, Cooking for a Cure fundraiser, went trick or treating for Unisef as a community service project, and attend a National Conference in Detroit. Along with all these events to take care of there is the bi-weekly general meeting for all members which I conduct and the meeting for the executive board on the off weeks.

As mentioned before our organization hosts many different events through out the year. However, no matter what the event the

With numerous different departments within PRSSA I stay very busy making sure I am attending all meetings, staying up to date on deadlines, and making sure updating minutes are getting out to all other members. Just this semester PRSSA planned an hosted a Chili Cook Off fundraiser, Cooking for a Cure fundraiser, went trick or treating for Unisef as a community service project, and attend a National Conference in Detroit. Along with all these events to take care of there is the bi-weekly general meeting for all members which I conduct and the meeting for the executive board on the off weeks.

As mentioned before our organization hosts many different events through out the year. However, no matter what the event the With numerous different departments within PRSSA I stay very busy making sure I am attending all meetings, staying up to date on deadlines, and making sure executive board on the off weeks.

As mentioned before our organization hosts many different events through out the year. However, no matter what the event the

With numerous different departments within PRSSA I stay very busy making sure I am attending all meetings, staying up to date on deadlines, and making sure updating minutes are getting out to all other members. Just this semester PRSSA

Picture by: NASCAR planned an hosted a Chifi Cook Off fundraiser, Cooking for a Cure fundraiser, went trick or treating for Unisef as a community service project, and attend a National Conference in Dasdfasfdetroit. Along with all these events to take care of there is the bi-As mentioned before our organdfkdjfgl;kf djgklksdfjgkjfl;dkgj;l;fdskjg;lsdkfization h With numerous different departmentsghjfhghjfhghjfhghjfhghj

KENSETH C4

First 100 days for Obama GOP Senetors say he's off to bad start

By Brittany Westercamp

president is unofficially the spokesperson for the organization. In October, thirteen of our members attended a conference in Detroit, Michigan. While we were here there was an awards ceremony in which all the major awards for PRSSA are given out. No matter how many members attended from your chapter only the president or designated person took the stage to receive the award.

On the flip side to all the prestige of being the president, mos of the blame when things go wrong is also put on me. When deadlines are not met or registrations are not mailed in on time it becomes my fault. So along with all the fun, comes the burden of the most responsibility. I love holding my position and taking control because I feel I am responsible enough to uphold and maintain all the duties and responsibilities that my members look to me for.

My position as PRSSA president is an example of Authority Relationship. As president I amasdjflkadsjf accountable and responsible for not only my actions but others' as well. Also, althoughadsf

Obama C2

Another Valentines Day Come and Gone

a;dsfgkjfa;'dsfjgjk;'ldfkg';ldfkmhb';ldfmb';ldfmb';ldfmb';ldfmb';ldfmb';ldfmb';ldfmb';ldfmb';alsdkjflkljldjlkdsajf;lsa

By: Brittany Westercamp

At the conclusion of the spring 2008 semester I was voted President of Public Relations Student Society of America (PRSSA). As I took this position I was automatically given authority over all divisions of the organization. With my authority I was to coordinate not only my actions but to also supervise others' actions. Although there were leaders to all sub divisions of the organization, it was still my job to make sure all those parts ran like a well oiled machine. To help with my overseeing position I was given references from the past president, could ask questions of the faculty advisor, and had information including brochures and websites to assist me in keeping up to date and making decisions.

With numerous different departments within PRSSA I stay very busy making sure I am attending all meetings, staying up to date on deadlines, and making sure updating minutes are getting out to all other members. Just this semester PRSSA planned an hosted a Chili Cook Off fundraiser, Cooking for a Cure fundraiser, went trick or treating for Unisef as a community service project, and attend a National Conference in Detroit. Along with all these events to take care of there is the bi-weekly general meeting for all members which I conduct and the meeting for the executive board on the off weeks.

As mentioned before our organization hosts many different events through out the year. However, no matter what the event the With numerous different departments within PRSSA I stay very busy making sure I am attending all meetings, staying up to date on deadlines, and making sure updating minutes are getting out to all other members. Just this semester PRSSA planned an hosted a Chili Cook Off fundraiser, Cooking for a Cure fundraiser, went trick or treating for Unisef as a community service project, and attend a National Conference in Detroit. Along with all these events to take care of there is the bi-weekly general meeting for all members which I conduct and the meeting for the executive board on the off weeks.

As mentioned before our organization hosts many different events through out the year. However, no matter what the event the With numerous different departments within PRSSA I stay very busy making sure I am attending all meetings, staying up to date on deadlines, and making sure executive board on the off weeks.

As mentioned before our organization hosts many different events through out the year. However, no matter what the event the heart of love akdsjfalsdkfj;lasdkj

Go to page 3

HIGH 78 LOW 62 Partly Cloudy

AstrologyC2 OpinionC2 Sports TVC4

Obituaries F2 Classifieds F3 ComicsC5